ART OUT IN THE OPEN

There is so much art about town, feast your eyes and follow your feet to find pockets of colour and explore the layered stories along our shores and streets. Use our tour maps and brochures to help guide you. www.hobartcity.com.au/publicart

BATTERY POINT SCULPTURE TRAIL

No part of Hobart has more significant cultural heritage than the Battery Point precinct. A walk around it is a voyage through a rich, sometimes uncomfortable history that is an intrinsic part of our cultural landscape.

www.hobartcity.com.au/publicart

URBAN ART WALLS

Using buildings as a canvas, the City of Hobart is making high-quality urban art painted by experienced and emerging artists.

www.hobartcity.com.au/publicart

PUBLIC ART

The Two Islands sculpture in Franklin Square presents a metaphor that draws together histories of Tasmanian Aboriginal and European settler cultures in the form of two symbolic vessels and a soundscape, representing the tangible and intangible layers of history and meaning.

www.hobartcity.com.au/twoislands

SIGNAL BOXES

Over 80 original artworks dot the city streets, each telling its own story and painted by the community and professional artists on normally anonymous traffic infrastructure.

www.urbansmartprojects.com/gallery

SOAPBOX

Wander up to vibrant Mathers Place to take in Soapbox, the City of Hobart's billboard project giving a public voice and free expression to the city's artists.

CROWTHER REINTERPRETATION

The City of Hobart has commissioned a series of four temporary public art commissions, by local arts practitioners, each offering a response to the statue of William Crowther in Franklin Square.

These works present diverse perspectives and aim to acknowledge, question, provoke discussion or awareness about the story of Crowther and his treatment of the body of well-known Aboriginal leader William Lanne, after his death in the 1860s. www.crowtherreinterpretation
