Policy

Title: Prevention of Modern Slavery in Supply Chains

Category: Corporate Governance

Date Last Adopted: 24 June 2024

1. Objectives

The objective of this policy is to set out Council's position in relation to modern slavery risks within the City's supply chains.

2. Policy

General

The City of Hobart is committed to ensuring:

- (a) its operations and supply chains do not cause, involve, or contribute to modern slavery;
- (b) the goods, services and works it procures have not resulted from modern slavery practices; and
- (c) its suppliers and others with whom we do business respect and share our commitment regarding minimising the risk of modern slavery.

3. Implementation

The City of Hobart is committed to combating modern slavery by:

- Identifying where our modern slavery risks are in our supply chains and assessing the degree of those risks.
- Engaging with our suppliers to outline Council's policy position and expectations in relation to modern slavery and identify which are committed to minimising the risk of modern slavery in their own supply chains and operations.

- Including modern slavery prevention commitment and compliance criteria in Request for Tender documents and Contract conditions.
- Increasing staff awareness of what modern slavery is, what Council’s modern slavery risks are and how to raise concerns.
- Having a reporting mechanism whereby the City’s staff, suppliers and the community can raise concerns about modern slavery in a confidential way.
- Setting out the expected ethics, behaviour and conduct expected of the City’s suppliers when doing business with the City.

All instances of actual or suspected unethical behaviour should be reported. For further information refer to the City’s Public Interest Disclosure Procedures at: <https://www.hobartcity.com.au/Business/Purchasing-and-tenders/Public-Interest-Disclosures-for-contractors>

Council has processes in place to ensure that staff, suppliers and the community can feel safe in reporting such incidents.
